A Ransom Note

Hi! I'm Smedley. I once was called "editor" of this zine, which sounds better than owner or creator... some shit like that. But, if anything created this artifact, it was the moment in time and space where it was assembled. No, this isn't only one person playing with rev names, and yes we really all do exist. Well at least we did at the various moments this came together. As for me, I'm a robber. As to the rest of the staff... I don't tell peo-ple others' business like that. But I'll say all of our imprisonment resulted from appropriations of property and fighting cops. I hope this issue doesn't come off as overly propagandistic... other than that, I make no apologies for what you might get out of this. Do you, for what you get out of life?
Are we political prisoners? Prisoners of the class war? You decide. You were going to anyways...
Oh, and by the way. For the next few minutes we'll aim to hold your attention for ransom. But the moment is always yours. Remember that. It's your first step to freedom.

Yeah, I'll write back. No, I don't have slimy plots brewing. If you're a racist or other type of hater - save your postage.

The Chow Insurrection

They started fucking with our food. It came down the pike from the main office and serving sizes were cut. We got tired of losing weight and being hungry all the time. So eleven of us refused to push our trays back out the slot in the door. The Warden came. Then the Director of food management came. Then the write-ups came. Maybe dinner will be bigger. I'll probably be here in the hole with Smizz for the rest of the summer, but if you're gonna die - die with your boots on. To Solidarity!

Some still call them
PIGS.

"Darkness Descends"

Unpure is the wrath of this unfiltered light, cascading shadows of doubt as dark as the night.

Violence lingers with vengeance on hold, ready to unleash terrors untold.

A tramp under a bridge cries out in pain, a victim of darkness and its colorless flames.

Rage and fury fight to unfold, total decimation, blackness and cold.

Soon only roaches and rats will remain, becoming presidents and kings of this vast domain.

Human hands laid the plans on all that was done, so I hope they died happy and got what they wanted.

Because, daylight is dead stirring uneasily in its grave, another victim of darkness on the dawn of its age.

These fuckers took a copy of Thought Bombs #17 off of one of the guys back here I'd let read it. The bastards sent it to the security/intelligence office along with a copy of Enrico Malatesta's The Anarchist Revolution I had lent to the guy. I don't know - I didn't consider them like "Mine! All mine!" So, it was more like I usually do with Anarchist and other literature, put it up as common material, using a "library" approach. Same as with all the stuff that's been collectivized out in population with the Radical Element Subterranean Information Network (Resin Collective.)

Still, it sucks that these gestapo scumbags taxed T.B. These pigs are so over-sensitive these days to anything they can construe as possibly a security threat. Key word there is construe. Of course they have no problem with mainstream media that "advocates violence." But when there's mention of going counter to the political game accepted by the US government, forget it. The violence pumped through the tv is acceptable to them. Not "Hollywood" violence, but the violence against civilians by the military and corporations.

Yeah, yeah, we all know that when it serves the military industrial complex, these incidents are milked for all they're worth. Case in point: Sept. 11. How many people - average US citizens - realize that it's not their war that those workers in the WTC perished over? It's so fucking blatant! Government policy wrote a check which was cashed in the blood of its civilian population. Did the religious fanatics who cashed that check have any justifiable reason to do that? Fuck no! They were controlled by religion in the way that the US soldiers at My Lai were controlled by patriotism.

Does the Afghan child, starving in the wasteland of Kandahar have any more say about the acts of Islamic Fundamentalism than the orphaned New York child crying for a Mother who will never come home from work has with US foreign policy?

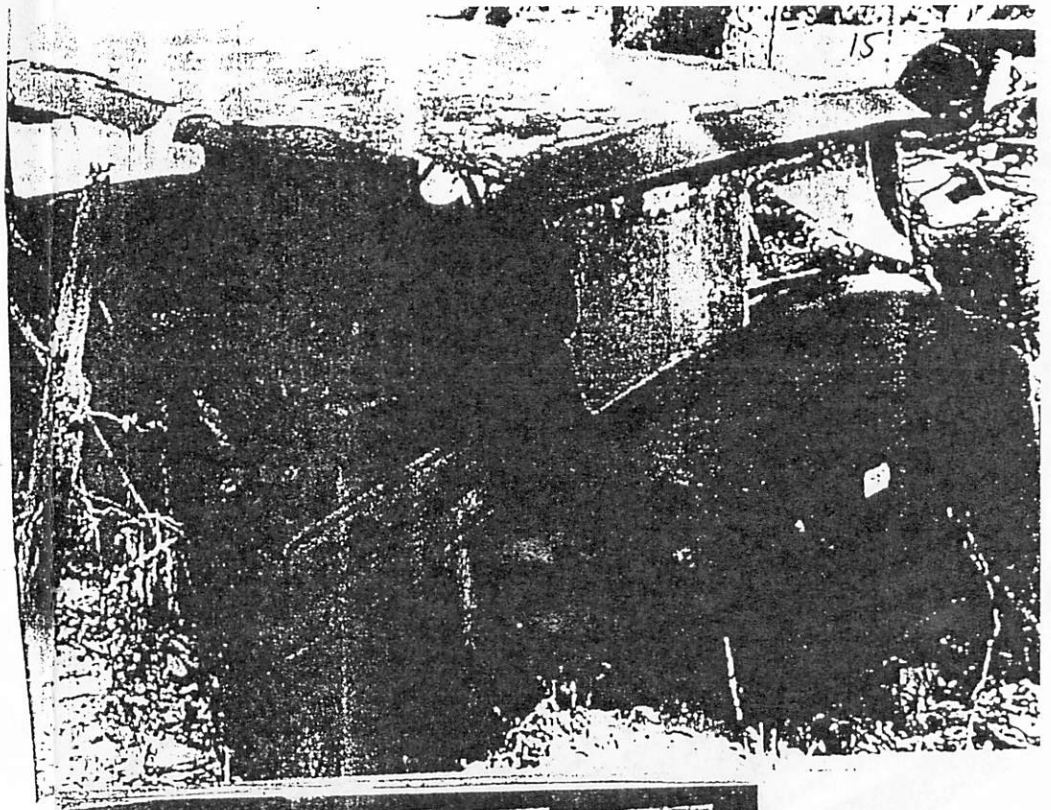

Yet, look who remains unscathed: the leaders of the network allegedly responsible for the attacks and the leaders of the US. Fucking cannon fodder. That's all we are to the ruling class. Face it, the working underclass is at best a labor pool for the wealth holders, the power holders, the ideologues and capitalists.

Disposable and controllable - that's how they keep us. Disposable with wars and wage slavery which works the main of the population to death, and controllable through the apparatus of the prison state. Now, see the shift post 9.11 to each end of that spectrum - militant nationalism becomes the main, the leaders encourage more spending to boost the economy & create jobs to keep the people busy while the real money concentrates in the hands of the military contractors.

And on the other side of the coin: enhanced police powers to fill the still expanding prison system. Of which who really profits? Society by the criminalization of further and further activities? Look how well the War on Drugs has failed! Oh, yes, I see now - the deterrent factor of penological incapacitation. Mmm, hmm. That's why crime rates have been dropping while imprisonment rates have been climbing.

So, then, you ask what profits from all this? What ever profits? Authority and leaders are justified by the phenomena of crime and war which they create to assure their own protection and position standing atop the necks of the working class poor, minorities and women.

And with that, here reprinted is the Anarchist Solution to the Problem of Crime.
