WHEN ..THE.. SMOKE.. CLEARS

-- Where the imprisoned spirit.. has yet to be broken by state oppression,
Can be sustained and revived...

By you and I. And by SOLIDARITY.

By everyone here. We urged You on...
By OUR Common Revolutionary Beliefs...

IF YOU DIE YOU DIE ... But never Surrender ...
Never make the enemy stronger.. Who oppresses us all...

Never give up. Never Retreat.
Never roll-over. Never Debrief.

WHEN... THE.. SMOKE.. CLEARS..

We Will Be There...
We will be there..

For those... Who no longer are...

WHEN .. THE.. SMOKE.. CLEARS..

To Each.. His own contribution ... His own Conscience...

Never give up.. Never back down.

Make your personal contribution ... to the struggle.. Your life's work.

And Stay strong.

WHEN THE SMOKE CLEARS...
WHEN.. THE.. SMOKE.. CLEARS ...
when the smoke clears ...

The enemy has many masks and the ideologies that drive it are centuries old now, the gluttonous appetite for money and power of those addicted. I will not give up and it's not over until it's over. Speak, organize, demonstrate, pray, help the poor and oppressed, be a good example, and most of all "don't ever give up!"
Leonard Peltier #89637-132 Native American Political Prisoner

HISTORY OF BLACK AUGUST CONCEPT AND PROGRAM

Black August originated in the California penal system in the 1970s. Many significant events in the New African Nation's struggle for justice and liberation have occurred in August. The commemoration of Black August particularly hails the advances and sacrifices of Black Freedom Fighters.
Following are several pages of authentic information on Black August provided by Doc Holiday, an original comrade of George Jackson and a longtime figure in the Black Liberation and prison struggle. Doc is presently in prison in Marion, Illinois.

The month of August gained special significance and importance in the Black Liberation Movement beginning with a courageous attempt by Jonathan Jackson to demand the freedom of political prisoners/prisoners of war which the Soledad Brothers' case were the center of attention.
On August 7, 1970 Jonathan Jackson, William Christmas, James McClain, and Ruchell Magee were gunned down outside the Marin County Courthouse.

Ruchell Cinque Magee remains the sole survivor of that bid for liberation, he also remains a POW at Folsom prison doing life. Though this rebellion was put down by gory pigs and their agents it was internalized within the hearts and minds of the people on the outside in the larger prison as well as those in the concentration camps (prison), internalized in the same fashion as we honor other heroic African Freedom Fighters, who sacrificed their lives for the people and the liberation.

On August 21, 1971, almost exactly a year following the slave rebellion at Marin County Courthouse, George L. Jackson (older brother of Jonathan Jackson as well as one of the Soledad Brothers) whose freedom was the primary demand of the Marin rebellion, was assassinated at San Quentin prison in an alleged escape put forth by prison administration and the state to cover its conspiracy. Comrade George Jackson was a highly respected and purposely influential leader in the Revolutionary Prison Movement. Jackson was also very popular beyond prison, not only because he was a Soledad Brother, but also because of the book he authored appropriately entitled "Soledad Brother." This book not only revealed to the public the inhumane and degrading conditions in prison, he more importantly, correctly pointed to the real cause of those effects in prison as well as in society, a decadent Capitalist system that breeds off racism and oppression.

On August 1, 1978 brother Jeffery "Khatari" Gualden, a Black Freedom Fighter and Prisoner of War, captured within the walls of San Quentin was a victim of a blatant assassination by capitalist-corporate medical politics. Khatari was another popular and influential leader in the Revolutionary Prison Movement.

An important note must be added here and that is, the Black August Concept and Movement that it is part of and helping to build is not limited to our sisters and brothers that are currently captured in the various prison Kamps throughout California. Yet without a doubt it is inclusive of these sisters and brothers and moving toward a better understanding of the nature and relationship of prison to oppressed and colonized people.

No matter our personal agenda.. Name.. Race,. Color or aspiration.

Fight-together.. Against the common enemy ..
And love your imprisoned brother.

9.

Stop the Killing and Come Together.
---Together... We will Overcome,

VENCEREMOS... Never give up the struggle --

Or you die... Dying for nothing ... Anon-nymous-ly.

Break Out ! Stay alive to fight another Day !

In the spirit of our mutual Comrade --
Who gave up his life -- For his revolutionary beliefs.
la luta continua...

WHEN ..THE .. SMOKE.. CLEARS...

In the name of prisoners, everywhere --
And Yet .. to be born.
Yet to be taken by the state from our communities--
And from our homes...

The struggle is never over ! Never Done....., Never lost.

Venceremos. VENCEREMOS !

Palante ! Palante ! -- as the Boriqua comrades and --
-- " Prisoners-of-War " say -- from their eternal-prison cells across the land.

WHEN., THE.. SMOKE.. CLEARS

Palante ! Forward Comrades! --
The war of prison liberation has yet to be won --
Has yet to be lost ... Is still being fought --

In every prison -- in every dungeon hole --
In every locked-mind that cannot see the strat-te-gy

---Of Mass Struggle ! Venceremos...

Venceremos !

Struggle day-to-day...

Fight ! Under the hard-won banner -- Of Black August...

8.

Black August.. Where and When -- People gave their life --
And From/ Where/ We've come ... Each of us..
Finding our way out of IMPRISONMENT.

Let Black August ... be inspiration for all--
Both inside and outside prison ..

When we must NEVER ..... Will never forget...

When standing Naked and Powerless...
-- When Going through, the degrading motions ...
Of the thousands, of in-prison "strip-searches "
And Which, is .. everyday prison life.. Undignified...
Dehumanizing --

Something ... Never to Forget..... Something We Will Never Forget..

Don't Go There.

Become Prison Revolutionaries --
If you are to survive... Survive intact.. And walk with your head up--

Within the Police State.

WHEN ... THE.. SMOKE.. CLEARS...

Comrade's spirit.. will fortify and encourage us -- on.
Will guide us in moving forward-- even when standing alone--
In Solitary Confinement.
But Standing in Solidarity.

SOLIDARITY FOREVER.

--- And against the common enemy.

WHEN .. THE.. SMOKE.. CLEARS

For all Who resist --

So it should be clearly understood that Black August is a reflection and commemoration of history; of those heroic partisans and leaders that realistically made it possible for us to survive and advance to our present level of liberation struggle. People such as: Nat Turner, Harriet Tubman, Gabril Prosser, Frederick Douglas, W.E. DuBois, Marcus Garvey, Paul Roberson, Rosa Parks, M.L. King, Malcolm X, and numerous others in our more contemporary period. It must be further clarified that when we speak of "Culture Development," we are not advocating Cultural Nationalism and/or merely talking about adopting African names, jewellery, dashikis, etc. Our primary interest lies not only in where we came from, but the nature of "WHY" we were forcefully brought here, understanding the character of "CONTINUOUS" struggle with the recognition that it is a Protracted struggle and developing the necessary lifestyles to guarantee its success.

August 20, 1619—First born Afrikan captives were brought to England's North Amerikan colony of Jamestown, Virginia.
August 16, 1768—Charlestown, South Carolina rebellious Afrikan slaves (known as maroons) engaged British military forces in bloody battle defending their camp which was a haven for fugitive slaves.
August 21, 1791—Haiti slave uprising for independence.
August 30, 1800—Day set for launching Gabrier Prossers revolt. On this day over 1000 armed slaves gathered to endeavor to secure their liberty, however bad weather forced them to postpone the revolt and betrayal ultimately led to the crushing of their physical force.
August 21, 1831—Slave revolt launched under the leadership of Nat Turner which lasted four days and resulted in fifty-one slaveholders and their loved ones being subjected to revolutionary People's justice.
August 29, 1841—Street skirmish took place in Cincinnati between Afrikan and Euro-Amerikan, wherein for five days Afrikans waged valiant struggle in defense of their women, children and property against brutal racist terror campaigns.
August 14, 1842—There were at least three Seminole US wars and one of them ended on August 14, 1842. Though some will ask, what does an Indian American war have to do with Black August? Well that's because the nature of the Seminole's and the real reasons behind their raging wars with the Americans is hidden beneath the mists of history. The very name Seminole derives from the American Spanish term for escapee, refugee or runaway. It stems from the term Semeron, which was used by the Spanish to denote Indian or African runaways from slavery. The English in Jamaica called their runaways maroons from the same root word. The Seminoles were once part of the Creek Confederacy, but unlike many of their contemporaries they forge close and lasting relationships with runaway Africans and habitually refuse British and American demands for the return of slaves to white service. The American general who fought in the Seminole wars, Thomas Jessup, put the question squarely when he declared, this, you may be assured, is a Negro not an Indian war. General Jessup wrote those words because of the hundreds of black warriors fighting on the side of the Seminoles and because the Seminoles refused to sell men, women and children who had become their kinfolk. It is noteworthy that of all the Indian wars fought against the Americans the Seminole wars cost the most American casualties. ★

August 22, 1843—Henry Highland Garnett called a general slave strike.

August 2, 1850 —Underground Railroad started.

August 1854 —Delegates from eleven states met in Cleveland at the National Emigration Convention of the Colored People, to advance the position that an independent land base (nation) be set up for the absorption of captive Afrikans in Babylon who wanted to return to Afrika.

August 1, 1856—North Carolina, fierce battle erupted between fugitive slaves and slaveholders who sought their capture and re-enslavement. Only recorded casualties was among slaveholders.

August 30, 1856—When the name of John Brown (a white man) is evoked the shadow of Harper's Ferry arises in the mind. Of the small group of rebels who tried, unsuccessfully, to seize an American armory and ferment rebellion among the slaves. But years before Harper's Ferry, John Brown had waged war against pro-slavery forces in Osawatomie, Kansas, after Missourians had sacked the town of Lawrence, Kansas some three months earlier. The fighting in Kansas led to excited reports about bleeding Kansas. What they were tough, nasty border wars between anti and pro-slavery forces. Each trying to dominate the other. Indeed, Brown was called Osawatomie Brown before Harper's Ferry marked him as a martyr for the sacred cause of freedom. ★

August 1860 —Freedom (slave) conspiracy uncovered with the discovery of an organized camp of Afrikans and Euro-Amerikan co-conspirators in Talladega County, Alabama.

WHEN .. THE.. SMOKE.. CLEARS ...

Our hearts heave a sigh... Hurt inside.
For what has .. passed-us-by .. these many years --
20 - 30- Years .. in Past memory.. in Blurring.. Fading memory ...

7.

Old soldiers.. Who slowly become old ... with UN-failing memory
For a Fallen Comrade... Remembering things... to remember....
Until Death Bites the Dust.

When / Many times.. we were unable to change the tide ..
Nor make much difference.. When solidarity...
Was all, we could ask and hope for.

Solidarity Forever ... Even after you Die.

For all those.. Who died in struggle and fell --
Fell by the wayside of indifference...

You made a Great Difference to each of us...

Each of us with his own memory ..
For those Who Died.. Forgotten and Unknown.

WHEN .. THE.. SMOKE.. CLEARS...

In final.. Those prisoners ...Who were terminated by an enemy-state
The enemy.. who still, wars on us in the name of --

Law and Order. And Corrupt Power.
And because.. of racist hatred -- Patriotic hypnosis...
And other things.. Unworthy...
Of our Mention... And Attention...

For those who die.. Each day in prison...
Or wait.. to die .. on Death-Rows across the nation...
You are not forgotten. You live on through us... Prison Revolutionaries
For all the dead we speak --
For those alive... We salute you.

Stay Alive ! Continue the fight !

-- Tries, defeating us at every turn...
-- And as explained .. In " Blood in my Eye."
Blood in My Eye. Written in the blood of Comrade G.

WHEN... THE... SMOKE... CLEARS...

Our recent.. collective-loss.. of Brother Nate --
Is still.. fresh in mind.

X-Prisoner and People's lawyer--
Fighting for Justice here.. in the Bay Area.

His loyalties and sympathy were always --
With the oppressed masses, everywhere...
With Prisoners, everywhere--
With You and I.

WHEN... THE... SMOKE.. CLEARS...

FROM US: From Myself: Sundiata, David, Dorsey, Thuh,
Michael, M'jumbe, Bill,
From Others... Un-mentioned here -- But unforgotten...
Who grasped your hand.. one last time at the end ...
In Final Solidarity...

Solidarity Forever...

WHEN... THE... SMOKE... CLEARS...

" Rock-on " is remembered: This forgotten prison-brother... Was there, with us --
At San Quentin.. that fatal August day when "Comrade G" was Assassinated.
Louie Lopez.. Stood at the door of the AC --
Along with Yog, Suni ... and others --
While Comrade's blood ran out-- Ran Out...
Ran out ... Onto the prison's asphalt.. On a Saturday afternoon...

" Rock-on " passed away.. in prison.. Last Father's Day.
And When-- in remembering... I was late to his funeral...
But .. You had my solidarity... always.. You too this day are remembered.

August 2, 1865 —Virginia a statewide conference of fifty Afrikan delegates met to demand that Afrikans in Virginia be granted legal title to land occupied during the Civil War. Numerous off-pitch battles ensued during this same month as terrorist mobs moved to evict Afrikans from the land and were met with resistance.

August 8, 1879—Emiliano Zapata is born. Zapata later went on to become the rebel leader who said "It is better to die on your feet than to live on your knees." August 21, 1971—George Jackson shot and killed in San Quentin by tower guards.

August 28, 1971— Black Panthers Jalil Muntaqim and Nuh Washington captured after a midnight shoot-out with San Francisco police.

August 8, 1978—One of the earlier MOVE confrontations. Some nine MOVE men and women were sent to prison for hundreds of years stemming from a deeply flawed trial. MOVE members continue to fight for the release of their imprisoned comrades. MOVE veterans of the August 8 police assault have been in prison for 25+ years in dungeons throughout Pennsylvania. They remain rebellious spirits who oppose a repressive status quo. The spirit of Black August moves through centuries of Black, Indian and multi-cultural resistance. It is an emblem of the spirit of freedom. It is a long smoldering spark of the fire in the hearts of a people, hearts burning and yearning for freedom. ★

August 5, 1987—23 conscientious objectors deliver collective letter of resistance to the apartheid policing by the South African Defense Forces in Cape Town.

August 22, 1989—Black Panther Party co founder Huey P. Newton murdered at the age of 47.

August 17, 1995—Mumia Abu Jamal scheduled for execution; stopped by international peoples resistance.

August 17, 1998—An armed standoff in Gaspe, Canada, between Micmac Indians and the Quebec government over timber rights ends with a compromise.

Editors Note - Some of the original dates descriptions have been expanded and additional dates not found in the original document relevant to the struggle have been added by the editor.

Dates with a ★ at the end of the description are excerpts from a radio broadcast by Mumia Abu Jamal on Black August given May 23, 2003.

BLACK AUGUST PROGRAM

Most standard history books tend to either play down or ignore New African resistance as a factor in the destruction in the slave economy. On the other hand, when one understands New Africans are still an oppressed nation, the reason for such deception becomes clear. Black August contends that not only was such resistance a factor in the destruction of the slave economy, but New African resistance to slavery continues to explosion of previously pent-up National Consciousness took place among New Africans.

The sixties was a further example of New African resistance to national oppression. It should be emphasized here that that struggle of non-violence was at that time a strategy of illegality, of danger, of arousing New Africans to direct confrontation with the colonial oppressor. Whether it was a sit-in at a segregated lunch counter or bus station, the movement deliberately broke the colonial law.

Inevitably the anti-colonial struggle moved to a higher level, growing beyond the initial stage of non-violent civil rights protest. Non-violent civil rights strategy was tried and discarded by New Africans, who found that it was a failure, incapable of forcing an entrenched settler's colonial regime to change.

Black August purports that it is important to briefly mention such events to counter the colonial propaganda that the riots of the 1960s was due to anger brought on by over crowdedness and summer heat. Black August asserts that in order for New Africans to arise to the historical task of defending the Nation, it is imperative that New Africans have a historical perspective of themselves resisting colonial oppression.

Black August avers that at a time when the Black Nation is experiencing the destruction of its community through planned gentrification, at a time when the quality of New African life is being blunted through unemployment, prison, drugs, high infant mortality and poverty, the call of New African organization should be one of resistance.

Black August is the antithesis to "celebration" and empty "homage." Black August attempts to place struggle and sacrifice on center stage. In this respect, Black August summons all progressive people who identify with the legacy of resistance to colonial oppression by actively participating in Black August. Thus during the entire month of August in commemoration of those Africans who have made the supreme sacrifice for the cause of African Liberation and reflect upon the significance of those contributions as well as to draw closer to the continuing necessity for resistance, we embrace the following as tenets to be practiced during Black August.
