We, the Anarchist Front of Iran and Afghanistan, once again reaffirm our unwavering and principled stance:

Every war-at any scale and under any pretext-that is initiated or prolonged by states is to be unequivocally condemned.

States, regardless of their form or appearance, utilize war as an instrument for survival and control. And in this process, it is the lives, dignity, and futures of ordinary people that are trampled underfoot.

At a time when the world is once more engulfed by violence, bombings, death, displacement, and insecurity, we insist on this enduring truth: the true victims of war are always the people-not the states, not ideologies, not borders.

Our struggle, as ever, is not for the redistribution of power among elites, but against the very institution of the state and all forms of organized domination.

We stand in solidarity-with care and resolve-alongside the people of Iran, Afghanistan, and the broader region.

What we are witnessing today is, on one hand, the blatant crimes of the Israeli regime, which targets civilians in Gaza and elsewhere with savage brutality. On the other hand, we see the Islamic Republic of Iran manipulating public fear, playing geopolitical games at the cost of Iranian lives, and forcing the burden of war upon society.

We see the Islamic Republic not merely as a regional warmonger, but as part of a global chain of domination and repression-a regime that for decades has assaulted the Iranian people with censorship, poverty, imprisonment, torture, and execution, and recklessly endangers millions through its military provocations.

While we condemn the atrocities of the Zionist regime in the strongest terms, we also declare that the struggle against the Islamic Republic is part of our broader fight against all states and structures of domination-a struggle that will persist.

We fight for a world without borders without states, without armies or authoritarianism-a world in which humanity, life and freedom are placed at the center. Our primary war has always been the war against political authoritarianism, totalitarianism and the state itself.
